OPERATIONAL UPDATE

Landqart

- The official launch of the Corporation's Durasafe[®] banknote paper will occur at the Banknote 2009 Conference to be held on December 6 – 9 in Washington D.C. Durasafe[®] is an innovative banknote substrate, which consists of two 100% cotton paper layers, which contain all the security features common to traditional banknote paper but with a polymer core. This three layer substrate dramatically increases the durability and design options as compared to conventional paper banknotes. Durasafe[®] adds the unique ability to implement security features consisting of semi and fully transparent windows of different shapes, sizes and positions. This product is anticipated to be commercially available in 2010.

"We believe Durasafe[®] represents a significant improvement in banknote technology and security without compromising the appearance and texture of traditional banknote paper," stated Chad Wasilenkoff, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Fortress Paper.

- The Landqart mill has now supplied banknote paper for the Euro currency for four additional countries increasing its total to 10 countries within the European Union. In addition to being the sole provider of banknote paper for the Swiss currency, the Landqart mill is also one of only nine authorized suppliers of banknote paper for the Euro currency. The Landqart mill has produced banknote paper for over 100 currency denominations and has an established reputation for producing banknote paper of the highest security and quality.

Dresden

- The Dresden mill has successfully completed the second stage of capital improvements to enhance the quality and efficiency of its production of non-woven wallpaper base. This most recent upgrade has increased our theoretical capacity by approximately 20% to 45,000 tonnes per annum depending on the product mix of non-woven. The Dresden mill is the world's leading supplier of non-woven wallpaper base, producing approximately 50% of the world's supply. The order book at the Dresden mill is experiencing its highest level of demand since the economic down turn.

"We are encouraged by the results at our Dresden mill and we expect to utilize the increased capacity to meet current and forecasted demand and strengthen our position in the global non-woven wallpaper market. We believe the efficiency enhancements at our Dresden mill will enable us to meet some of the challenges resulting from current economic conditions", commented Dr. Alfonso Ciotola, President of Fortress Paper.
